“Looking For A Way Out”

*A Guide to Addiction Treatment
And Education Resources
In Trumbull County*

This publication was produced by the Trumbull County Mental Health and Recovery Board and the Alliance for Substance Abuse Prevention (ASAP) Opiate Task Force. This guide to resources in Trumbull County is for individuals seeking help with substance abuse and addiction. You may be looking for help yourself or for a friend or family member. We hope this information will open some doors to finding help. Addiction is a complex and crippling condition. The needs are many, but the number of places to turn is growing and changing. Please directly contact agencies listed in this guide for the most current information.

Please Note:

These listings are not intended as recommendation of specific agencies nor can this be considered a complete list of resources. It is an evolving field and we hope to be able to update this informational guide periodically. Because of the current situation with abuse and addiction to pain pills and heroin, Trumbull County is developing resources which concentrate on this aspect of addiction. However, other drugs of abuse, including alcohol are being treated by these same institutions.

THE HUB FOR TREATMENT IN TRUMBULL COUNTY

Trumbull County Mental Health and Recovery Board

The mission of the board is to improve the well-being of our community by establishing and maintaining an effective, efficient and quality system of alcohol, drug and mental health services in Trumbull County. ## DRUG FREE COMMUNITY COALITION

Alliance for Substance Abuse Prevention (ASAP)

ASAP is a community project of the Trumbull County Mental Health and Recovery Board. The coalition engages in strategic partnerships to solve our community's substance abuse problems. The ASAP coalition was originally organized as a response to the underage alcohol use problem in Trumbull County. The coalition served as the catalyst behind the countywide "Parents Who Host Lose The Most" campaign. As members of the coalition became aware of the opiate epidemic in our County, they decided to tackle the issue and the ASAP Opiate Task Force was formed. The Task Force meets monthly and the group focuses on education, addressing high rates of drug related crimes, providing community education, and leading community wide change.

Private Counseling

If you have insurance coverage or perhaps an Employee Assistance Program through your workplace, you may want to explore the possibility of seeing a private therapist with a specialized interest in alcohol/substance abuse counseling. Contact your insurer or EAP provider.

Also, if you have concerns about your own use of alcohol, drugs, or other addictive behaviors – or the behaviors of a loved one, you may want to speak to your family doctor for a referral to a private therapist. This can be a helpful step, whether you have concerns about yourself or need to speak to someone about your relationship with a person with addictive behaviors. “Addiction is a family disease” and its effects are widespread.

RESIDENTIAL TREATMENT

When people think of drug treatment or “rehab,” they often think of residential treatment. The patient is required to live at the facility for perhaps 1-3 months, or sometimes longer. Being there full-time allows for a more intensive treatment program. Without outside distractions, the individual is free to concentrate more fully on recovery.

Access to an inpatient program can depend on insurance coverage, or the ability to pay. Some programs are publically funded but admission may be based on referral from other agencies and waiting lists are often long. Unfortunately, the need for these services is far greater than their availability. If an individual is serious about admission to an inpatient facility, many phone calls may need to be made. Because waiting lists may be long, outpatient counseling or some other supportive plan may be advisable while waiting.

Recovery Coaches

A Recovery Coach is a person who helps remove personal and environmental obstacles to recovery, links the newly recovering person to the recovering community, and serves as a personal guide and mentor. Coaches are not therapists and do not offer counseling, therapy or any other clinical services. Instead, they are peers who assist people on the path from a life of addiction to a life in recovery. Coaches have personal experience in navigating this path and will offer “insider” knowledge. They help individuals in recovery address areas of their lives that have been negatively impacted by addiction, including housing, education and employment.
